

Eat Turkey, Help DSL | CPD

Sue Reeves

11/20/2015

This Thanksgiving we all have a lot to be thankful for. For some members of our community, this includes being able to participate in our Developmental Skills Lab (DSL). DSL provides safe, stimulating and fun care and activities for adults with disabilities, as well as respite for their families and those who take care of them. Now you have an opportunity to help make sure this service is available to someone who needs it. Please join us this Friday, November 20 for a Thanksgiving turkey feast to support ongoing care for one of our DSL participants. Leave your boring old sack lunch at home this Friday and for $10 we will provide you a festive feast of turkey and all the fixings, brought to you by Lee's Market Place. Reserve your spot by purchasing your lunch in advance at the CPD main office, DSL main office, or simply e-mail Shane Johnson that you are interested and he will stop by your desk for payment. This is open to everyone, so feel free to invite friends and family to join you. We hope to see you there!

When: Friday, November 20, 12:00pm – 1:00 pm

Where: HSRC 105

How: Just bring $10, cash, or check made out to the "CPD Developmental Skills Lab" to the CPD front office, DSL office, or to the lunch on Friday.

What's Cooking: Roast turkey, mashed potatoes and gravy, rolls and veggies.
