Citizens Reutilizing Assistive Technology Equipment, also known as CReATE, is collecting donations of fabric that will be stitched into wheelchair bags by volunteers. Quilters and sewists, here's your chance to clear out last year's fabric from your stash so you can buy this spring's newest selections!

Cotton, denim, canvas, polyester and polyester blends (any sturdy, washable fabric) in any color or print are welcome. Drop donations at the AT lab (Room 126 in the Janet Quinney Lawson building), or call Clay Christensen at 797-0699 or Tom Boman at (801) 887-9398 for more information.

CReATE is a project of the Utah Assistive Technology Program (UATP) at Utah State University's Center for Persons with Disabilities.
